QUOTATIONS

CECELIA BLACK—I loaf and invite my soul to soar to unkown heights.

ANNA CAMPBELL—If eyes were made for seeing, then beauty is its own excuse for being.

FRANK CHIVERS—A man in earnest has no time to waste.

RAY CLIPPER—How good is man's life, the mere living.

LOUIS CRIPPO—Thou canst not say I did it. Never shake thy gray locks at me.

MARIE DANKERT—A woman's thoughts run before her actions.

GRANT GAGE—Words are women, deeds are men.

FERRIS GRAHAM—But what is woman? Only one of Nature's agreeable blunders.

TED GREEN—He pleases to live and lives to please.

LESTER GREVE—The thoughts of youth are long long through.

JACK GOODRICH—Judging each step as though the way were plain.

EARL GUILFORD—Life is a jest and all things show it, I thought so once but now I know it.

THELMA HILTON—More tender, more true.

EARL HOLLIDAY—Music has charms to soothe a savage beast, to soften rocks or bend a knotted oak.

WAYNE KENNICOTT—We met upon the level and we parted on the square.

ADOLPH KLEMEK—Although he had much wit, He was very shy in using it; as being loath to wear it out.

ETHEL LAKING—Charms strike the sight but merit wins the soul.

CLEO LLOYD—Not stepping on the bounds of modesty.

VERN McCRORY—HE trudged along, unkowning what he sought; He whistled as he went for want of thought.

JESS MINNS—He who once has won a name for himself may sleep afternoons.

WILLIAM POWELL—Giving every man his ear but few his voice.

DOROTHY REDBURN—Would that I an actress were, and dishes wash themselves.

FLOYD RODGERSON—Not to know me argues yourselves unknown.

ROY SANDERSON—He practiced what he preached.

ALFRED SCHWEIZER—As idle as a painted ship upona painted ocean.

WILLIAM STOCKWELL—In life as in a football game, hit the line hard.

EVA STOUT—Thought is deeper than all speech. Feeling deeper than all thought.

GLADYS THOMPSON—There is a garden in her face where roses and white lillies blow.

CLARA WHEATLEY—I will walk the long path with you.

HAZEL WHEATLEY—For she was just the quiet kind whose nature never varies.

HARVEY WILLIAMS—A man, he seems of cheerful yesterdays and confident tomorrows.
